Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this '66 Riviera Gran Sport.

Every last thing that goes into a Buick—suspension, body mounts, shock absorbers—not only has to work, it has to work with everything else. That's tuning.

Tuning is what we do more of (and care more about) than anybody we know of. And then we go out and test it in more places, too. On roads like the ones you'll be driving on. Why we do it will be obvious when you take your first ride. The tuned car rides and handles as handsomely as it looks. (Tuning may be hard to explain. But it's easy to notice.)

What the tuned car will do for you. And your family. For a start, the new Riviera will comfort you. You'll see that when you slip into the Riviera's new bench seats. Space for six. If you like buckets, they're available, with a reclining arrangement for the right-front passenger. And we have another comforting option available: a new notch-back seat that converts from bench to semi-bucket.

Choosing the tuned car. Visit your Buick dealer. Every Buick you see is the tuned car. Riviera, the new international classic. Riviera Gran Sport. Every '66 Buick.

And with a choice like that, how in the world can you go wrong?

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

FORTY NINER PROFILE

Dave Wilcox

Dave Wilcox, a 235-pound strongman in the Forty Niner defense, is a relative youngster among National Football League linebackers, but the 23-year-old Oregonian already has established a reputation as one of the league's superlative defenders.

Forty Niner assistant coach Dick Voris is one of Dave's greatest boosters. "Dave has shown exceptional development in two years," says Voris, "and he is highly respected by other NFL teams."

A fine natural athlete, Wilcox brings both strength and speed to his left linebacker position. "He has great feel for the position," says Voris, "and with his experience as a defensive end he has real fine strength to meet the run. Most linebackers are not as strong, but he has the strength to handle the big tight ends (the Ditkas and Mackeys) to stop the run."

Wilcox also scores well as a pass defender, the No. 2 job in the demanding double-duty role of a linebacker. "He's a fine pass defender, too," says coach Voris. "He can run with most halfbacks for 30 yards, and linebackers like that are difficult to find." Dick points out that Wilcox' speed and strength are the qualities which put Dave in good position in the Forty Niners' "keying" defense. "He doesn't guess," says Voris, "for he reads keys well and reacts with quickness and is therefor never in a bad position."

Voris notes that Wilcox is "a relative baby among NFL linebackers." "Most of the top linebackers have from five to 10 years' experience," says Dick, "so Dave has a long career ahead of him."

Wilcox, who scored his first pro TD last week in Detroit on a fumble recovery, had a fine rookie campaign in 1964 when he earned his first starting assignment against the Chicago Bears in the fourth game of the season. "I was really nervous and scared," says Dave. But the big boy from Oregon soon got over the stage fright, and he was one of the heroes in a 31-21 Forty Niner victory over the Bears. Young Mr. Wilcox has been San Francisco's starting left linebacker ever since.

Dave believes linebacking is one of the toughest tasks in professional football. "One play you are trying to break up the run, and the next you might be chasing a Lenny Moore downfield on a pass."

Linebacking was a new role for Wilcox when he joined the Forty Niners last year, although he did see action at the position in the College All-Star game in Chicago against the Bears. "Learning the keys was the toughest job," says Dave, "but I had lots of help from Dick Voris on the run and Jim David on the pass; it also helps to play beside someone like Dan Colchico to see how to react . . . and Matt Hazeltine helps in many little things."

Wilcox, a member of the National Football League rookie team last Fall, feels the experience he gained in his first pro campaign was invaluable. "Many of the things I worked to learn last year are now automatic," says Dave.

Dave started his athletic career in Vale, a small farming community in eastern Oregon where he was raised along with six brothers and one sister.

A versatile athlete at Vale High School (320 enrollment), Dave earned nine prep letters in football, basketball and baseball. An all-State end, he played on two state championship teams. Dave also was an all-state selection in basketball. "I think I was about the tallest (6-2) boy in school," says Dave, who averaged about 15 points per game. Dave was a jack-of-all trades in baseball, playing every position except catcher.

An indication of Dave's defensive skills became apparent at Boise Junior College where he played under Ray Lewis. Wilcox set a record by blocking eight kicks in one season and went on to win All-America Junior College honors and to play in the J.C. All-America game.

Wilcox followed his brother John (who played a season with the Philadelphia Eagles) to the University of Oregon, where he majored in education. Dave starred for two seasons under coach Len Casanova, playing his Junior year at end and then moving to guard for his Senior season. "The move was a big help to me," says Dave, "for it taught me discipline."

Oregon played in the Sun Bowl in El Paso following a fine season, and Dave signed with San Francisco immediately after the game. Dave was a third round Forty Niner draft selection, and San Francisco was Dave's first choice, so both parties were quite happy.

FORTY NINERS DEDICATE TRAINING FACILITY

The San Francisco Forty Niners have dedicated their training facilities in Redwood City to the memory of Tony and Vic Morabito, founders of the club.

The training site was renamed "Morabito Field House," and a memorial plaque was mounted on the building in dedication ceremonies on November 1. Mrs. Joseph Heintzelman and Mrs. Jane Morabito, widows of the Morabito brothers, attended the ceremonies along with club officials.

An expansion and remodeling program completed just prior to the dedication has made the Forty Niners' Redwood City facility one of the finest professional football training centers in the nation. The facility includes a training building and a practice field. The building houses locker rooms and showers, a training room, equipment room, gymnasium and administrative offices for the coaching staff and club officials.

The land upon which the building is located and the adjacent training field belongs to Redwood City, and the Forty Niners lease the facility. However, the Forty Niners maintain the property and cover the cost of the expansion.

The idea for establishing Forty Niner training facilities in Redwood City ("Climate Best by Government Test") originated with Alyn Beals, a 49er graduate (1946-51) who ranks as one of the greatest offensive ends in San Francisco history. Beals presented his proposal to Tony Morabito in 1955. The ideal climate and other advantages of the Peninsula location appealed to Mr. Morabito, and the Forty Niner President gave his enthusiastic approval to Beals' plan.

Beals, who was chairman of the Redwood City Parks and Recreation Commission at the time, then presented his plan to the City Council where the reaction was equally enthusiastic. Groundwork for the proposed facilities was negotiated by Mayor Bill Royer, councilmen Bob Spillers and Floyd Granger and Recreation Director Bill Morton. The Council approved the building of a field house and the turfing of the field at 711 Nevada Street and negotiated a lease with the Forty Niners.

The club moved to the new facility in the Fall of 1956 and has enjoyed the fine training facilities ever since. The recent additions have made the Forty Niner Redwood City plant one of the most complete and efficient facility of its kind in the National Football League.

The association between the Forty Niners and Redwood City has been a happy one for both parties. The rent paid by the Forty Niners during the original 10-year lease will cover the original cost of the facilities, and since the club uses the camp for only three months each year, the facilities are available for the Boy Scouts, Cubs and other youth organizations as well as civic functions for the remainder of the year.

The Forty Niners have become a part of the Peninsula community, as witness the annual "Bring a 49er to Lunch" party staged by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber entertains the coaching staff and 49er squad each year in a luncheon which serves to bring the 49ers and community closer together.

Locker rooms in the Forty Niner Field House offer players the finest in modern quarters.

Forty Niner trainer Linc Kimura works in the excellent training room in Redwood City.

BILL MUNSON
Quarterback

19

Pressed into duty as the Rams' regular quarterback at the outset of his first pro season because of Roman Gabriel's knee injury, Munson started eight of 14 games and wound up as a member of the NFL's all-rookie team . . . poised youngster from Utah State opened the first five league games (in which the Rams compiled a 2-2-1 record) before giving way to Gabriel, then played all the way in the final three . . . blessed with an exceptionally quick delivery, excellent timing, a strong arm and the poise of a veteran . . . was the Rams' No. 1 pick in the 1963 draft . . . among the nation's top 10 collegiate passers of 1963.

CHARLES COWAN
Guard-Tackle

73

Cowan's versatility is one of the strengths of the Ram line . . . forced to move to tackle for three games when capt. in Frank Varrichione was sidelined by injury, Cowan played well at the strange position . . . strong and agile with good speed . . . rated as a topnotch run blocker and has improved his pass protection work . . . selected on fourth round of 1961 draft . . . overcame kidney ailment to make the club . . . virtual one-man gang at Highlands, Cowan played offensive end, defensive tackle and full-back during his four years of varsity football.

EDDIE MEADOR
Defensive Back

21

Most valuable player of 1964 was the accolade given Meador by Ye Old Rams Club after the rugged little defensive captain had finished his sixth season as a regular . . . shifted to the right safety position in 1964 after five years as halfback . . . intercepted three passes . . . now has a total of 15 swipes in his NFL career . . . named to the 1965 West Pro Bowl Squad . . . a tremendous small college player on both offense and defense at Arkansas Tech . . . drafted by Rams on seventh round of 1958-1959 selections.

MARLIN MCKEEVER
End

86

McKeever's 1964 season, his first full year at the tight end position, drew comments of praise from rival NFL coaches . . . injured late in pre-season, he finished strongly and wound up the club's leading receiver with 41 catches for 582 yards and one touchdown . . . strong blocker, has good hands and better than average speed . . . was switched to the receiving spot with four games left in 1963 and his fine play made the move permanent . . . primarily an end at USC . . . rates among the Trojan's all-time great linemen . . . won first team all-American honors

RAMS

ROOSEVELT GRIER
Defensive Tackle

76

It was another big season for Grier, who was a fulltime performer in all 14 league games in 1964 . . . exceptionally strong and amazingly quick for such a big man . . . helped New York Giants to four Eastern titles in seven seasons . . . drafted by Giants on third round in 1955 . . . to Rams in trade for John LoVetere . . . an honorable mention all-American choice following his senior year at Penn State . . . also starred in track and field and was league champion in shot put at 58 feet.

DAVE JONES
Defensive End

75

The year 1964 was "graduation year" for Jones, who played to his great potential and arrived as a defensive end of all-pro stature . . . named to his first Pro Bowl game . . . AP, UPI and NEA all named him to second team all-NFL honors, while the Southern California Football Writers honored him as player of the year and recipient of the Coca-Cola Golden Helmet Award . . . Ye Old Rams called Deacon its top defensive lineman . . . a 14th round choice . . . an all-conference tackle at South Carolina State in 1958, Jones shifted to Mississippi Vocational in 1960

MERLIN OLSEN
Defensive Tackle

74

All-pro honors from NEA and The Sporting News (1st team) and AP and UPI (2nd team) plus his third straight Pro Bowl appearance followed Olsen's banner 1964 season . . . one of the quickest and strongest defense linemen . . . began his honor-winning career in 1962 when he was named the NFL's "defensive rookie of the year," continued it in 1963 when AP, UPI and NEA all named him to second team all-pro honors . . . rated the nation's finest pro line prospect following the 1961 collegiate season . . . drafted on the first round by the Rams . . . near-unanimous all-American choice.

BEN WILSON
Fullback

36

Wilson, in only his second pro season, was the Rams' top ground gainer and rushing TD's leader last year with 520 yards and five scores . . . one of the club's most durable performers . . . termed "an improved blocker" at season's end . . . because of injuries to both knees, Wilson's college grid career was spread over a five-year period . . . in his junior year (1961) he netted 619 yards and was drafted as a fifth-round "future" by the Rams . . . helped USC to Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin.

Ram fullback Ben Wilson runs against Baltimore.

RAM SCOUT REPORT

There were 44 seconds left in the first half at Baltimore and young Bill Munson had the Los Angeles Rams in position to get back into the game against the defending Western Conference Champion Colts.

Munson went back quickly and fired, low and hard. Tommy McDonald dropped the ball in the end zone. If Munson was shaken, he didn't show it. He called McDonald's signal again. This time McDonald didn't miss. Touchdown Los Angeles.

The Rams eventually went under to Johnny Unitas and three Baltimore TDs in the last 10 minutes, 35-20, but not until second-year quarterback Bill Munson had once again shown the poise and savvy that point to future stardom in the National Football League.

Against Baltimore, Munson completed 13 of 25 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns, and prompted no less a judge than Unitas to comment:

"He is a fine one. He can really throw that ball and he's always in control of himself."

Two words stand out when quarterbacks and non-quarterbacks talk about Munson, a 6-2, 197-pound blond from Utah State who started in eight of the Rams' 14 games last year as a rookie—cool and quick.

"He's very alert, very calm and very efficient," says Harland Svare, the Rams' coach.

"He's very quick and he really has a stop-watch eye," adds Vic Schwenk, Rams' assistant coach. "Nothing ever seems to bother him. He'll stand up there to any kind of pressure and if his primary man is having trouble, he'll pick up the second man immediately."

Said a teammate after Munson triggered a 21-point fourth quarter that beat the Chicago Bears earlier this season: "I don't see how a man can get so hot and stay so cool."

Says Munson: "I don't see any reason to be nervous. I concentrate on one play at a time. I think about execution—not results."

Nevertheless, results are starting to come for Munson and a Rams' offense that was off to a slow start in '65.

"We are very pleased with Bill," says Svare. "He's a good one and he'll be better."

Baltimore quarterback Johnny Unitas says the front four of the Los Angeles Rams—Dave Jones, Merlin Olsen, Roosevelt Grier and Lamar Lundy—give a passer special problems just by their size. "If I had to face them every week I'd have to learn to throw side-arm," says Unitas. "There were a couple times against them when I had a man in the open but I had to throw off to the side and hope my receiver could 'read me' and adjust. There's just no chance to throw over them—you have to hope your blockers can get you a passing lane" . . . The Rams' Four average better than 6-5 and 270 pounds . . . Jones is the "baby" at 6-4 and 261 pounds; Olsen is 6-5 and 276, and Grier 6-5 and 290 and Lundy 6-7 and 260.

New Magic Doorgate for all our 1966 wagons!

Ford, Fairlane, and Falcon all offer the new Magic Doorgate for 1966—standard on Ford and Fairlane wagons, optional on Falcon. Reach for the door handle and it swings open like a door. Reach for the tailgate latch and it swings down like a tailgate. This is the kind of wagon magic you'd expect from America's station wagon specialist. You get a magic ride, too. Model for model, the '66s from Ford are the smoothest riding, easiest handling wagons we've ever built.

For 1966 there are 5 Ford, 3 Fairlane and 2 Falcon wagons to choose from. Fun for all the family. If you are in the market for a wagon this year—play it smart. Follow the wagon master. Ford!

NFL NOTES

MORE THAN 10 PER CENT of all 300-yard plus passing performances in the history of the National Football League belong to Johnny Unitas, the quarterback of the Baltimore Colts. No individual ever passed for as much as 300 yards during the first 20 years of the league, but on Dec. 1, 1940, Davey O'Brien of the Philadelphia Eagles gained 316 yards through the air. Since then, the feat has been accomplished a total of 144 times by 37 different passers.

Unitas has 15 such performances, eight of which came in the two seasons of 1960 and 1963 when Johnny topped 300 four times each year. The only other men to hit 300 four times in a season are Y. A. Tittle with New York in 1962 and Sonny Jurgensen with Philadelphia in 1961.

Behind Unitas in the total number of 300-yard plus days are Tittle, 13 (4 with San Francisco, 9 with New York); Jurgensen, 12 (9 with Philadelphia, 3 with Washington); Bobby Layne, 10 (1 with the New York Bulldogs, 6 with Detroit, 3 with Pittsburgh), and Bill Wade, 10 (2 with Los Angeles, 8 with Chicago).

THE WEST

THE RACE Baltimore (8-1) and Green Bay (7-2) are heading for a December 12 showdown in Baltimore . . . The Colts meet Philadelphia (3-6) today and then face Detroit and Chicago . . . The Packers take on Minnesota (5-4) today, followed by Los Angeles and another with the Vikings . . . San Francisco (4-5) tries for its second win over Los Angeles (1-8), and Chicago (5-4) and Detroit (5-4) battle for third spot at Detroit.

THE STARS Doug Atkins, Bennie McRae and Dave Whitsell intercepted Green Bay passes to lead Chicago to a 31-10 upset over the Packers . . . Scrambler Fran Tarkenton fired two TD passes and the Vike defense held Jim Brown to 39 yards in Minnesota's 27-17 win over Cleveland . . . Reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo took over for injured Johnny Unitas in the third quarter and tossed the winning TD for Baltimore over Chicago . . . Unitas tossed two TD passes before leaving the game . . . A double lateral (Tarkenton to Mick Tingelhoff to Bill Brown) was good for 12 yards and the winning TD for Minnesota in a 24-13 Viking win over Los Angeles . . . Forty Niner George Mira, starting his first game at quarterback this year, tossed two TD passes against Dallas . . . Defensive linemen scored two TDs on fumble recoveries in the Forty Niner's 27-21 win over Detroit . . . Linebacker Dave Wilcox (8 yards) and end Clark Miller (69 yards) were San Francisco's heroes . . . Gary Cuozzo kept Baltimore on top by tossing five TD passes against Minnesota in a 41-21 Colt win.

THE EAST

THE RACE The Cleveland Browns (7-2), with a two-game lead over second place St. Louis (5-4), travel to Dallas to meet the Cowboys (4-5), who have won their last two starts . . . New York (4-5), tied for third with Dallas, goes to St. Louis (5-4) for a "must" game for both teams . . . The Washington Redskins (3-6) and the Pittsburgh Steelers (2-7) tangle in Pittsburgh . . . Philadelphia (3-6) is in the West against Baltimore (8-1).

THE STARS Rookie fullback Tucker Frederickson scored the winning TD in New York's 14-10 win over St. Louis . . . Pittsburgh qb Bill Nelson turned in his finest performance in a 22-13 win over Dallas . . . Nelson threw three TD passes . . . Cowboy Mel Renfro ran the opening kickoff 99 yards to a TD against San Francisco . . . The lead changed hands six times in Cleveland's 38-34 win over Philadelphia . . . Frank Ryan threw a seven-yard pass to Gary Collins for the winning TD . . . A 59-yard pass with 37 seconds to play gave St. Louis a 21-17 win over Pittsburgh . . . QB Charley Johnson tossed to Billy Gambrell on the play to keep the Cardinals in the race . . . Defensive back Paul Krause ran 31 yards with a fumble to score against New York in the Redskins' 23-7 win . . . Jim Brown assumed the NFL scoring lead when he ran for three TD's in Cleveland's 34-21 over New York. Brown tops the league with 84 points.

The San Francisco 49ers-Los Angeles Ram football competition has been one of the most spirited rivalries in the history of professional football. Here are some of the highlights from the 49er-Ram record book:

1951: San Francisco scored its first victory in the series with a 44-17 triumph over the eventual winners of the Western title. Gordy Soltau scored 26 points for the 49ers, and Leo Nomellini blocked a Ram punt and scored a TD. The Rams reversed the decision, 23 to 16 in Los Angeles.

1953: Two of the most exciting games in the rivalry resulted in two San Francisco wins. The 49ers overcame a 20-0 deficit in the first game and finally won on Gordy Soltau's field goal with five seconds to play, 31 to 30. The rematch in Los Angeles was another cliffhanger, with the Forty Niners winning, 31 to 27, on a 17-yard pass from Y. A. Tittle to Soltau with a minute to play.

1963—Los Angeles 28, 49ers 21 (LA)
Los Angeles 21, 49ers 17 (SF)

1964—Los Angeles 42, 49ers 14 (LA)
49ers 28, Los Angeles 7 (SF)

1965—49ers 45, Los Angeles 21 (LA)

1955: The Rams, bound for another Western Division title, whipped San Francisco twice, 23 to 14 and 27 to 14.

1956: Gordy Soltau had another great kicking day against Los Angeles with four field goals in a 33-30 49er win in San Francisco. The Rams turned the tables in Los Angeles, 30 to 6.

1957: A. Y. A. Tittle-R. C. Owens "Alley-Oop" beat the Rams in Kezar, 23 to 20, but the Rams once again took the return battle in Los Angeles, 37 to 24.

1958: Los Angeles scored two of its biggest wins in the series, routing San Francisco twice, 33 to 3 and 56 to 7.

1959: The Forty Niners scored one of the biggest surprises in the series when they whipped the favored Rams, 34 to 0, for the first of five straight San Francisco wins. San Francisco repeated in the south, 24 to 16, led by Abe Woodson's 105-yard kickoff return.

1961: The year of the "shotgun." The Forty Niners won, 35 to 0, at San Francisco, but the Rams won in Los Angeles, 17 to 7.

1962: Each team won on the road. The Rams won in Kezar 28 to 14, but San Francisco evened things up in the Coliseum with a 24-17 win.

YOU GET BETTER TASTE FROM BEER IN

No-deposit Non-return Bottles

You add to your enjoyment when you buy beer in glass bottles. No metallic tinge—just the pure flavor of the brew which your brewer put into it.

Beer in one-way, no deposit bottles costs no more than cans. More sanitary because bottles are sterilized before filling . . . and the cap protects the pouring lip from dust and germs.

as beer should taste

How GLASS helps health

Today, glass bottles and jars make life more pleasant, convenient and healthful for people all over the world. Glass bottles protect the purity of baby foods—protect and preserve the fresh-picked flavor of your favorite juices, fruits and vegetables. Glass jars reseal easily, store well in your refrigerator and keep food fresh for each new serving. Glass itself is so pure it cannot change the flavor of the contents or alter the most delicate aroma. Glass bottles keep milk clean and pure. There's nothing in glass to change dairy-fresh flavor. Since glass is weather-proof, it always protects quality, consistency and flavor; its clarity lets you see natural quality at a glance.

IT'S PUNT, PASS, KICK DAY!

Eighteen youthful district champions, aged 8 through 13, take to the field today before the kickoff to compete for area honors in the annual nationwide "Punt, Pass & Kick" contest sponsored by the NFL and the Ford Dealers of America.

Each boy has the opportunity to win the honor of representing the San Francisco 49ers at the western division competition at Los Angeles, December 18, and, perhaps, go on to the national PP&K "Tour of Champions" and the national championship contest in the Orange Bowl, January 9. Punting, passing and kicking scores from today's contest will be compared with those of other PP&K contestants in the western division to determine who shall compete in the division event. Thirteen other area contests are being held this month across the nation.

The competition today will be supervised by the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department which conducted local contests on city playgrounds recently.

Three areas are represented by today's contestants: Northern California, Washington-Oregon, and Utah-Idaho-Montana. The boys are:

Northern California: Larry Lee Major, 8, Pittsburg, sponsored by Jorgensen Ford Sales; Jeffrey Buffum, 9, Alturas, sponsored by Tierney Ford Sales; Greg Spahn, 10, Antioch, sponsored by Al Eames Ford Sales; Lynn E. Reinhard, 11, Oakland, sponsored by Jackson Goldie Ford Sales; Randy Shaffer, 12, Stockton, sponsored by Eagal Ford Sales; Dennis Haines 13, Granada, sponsored by Gold-Reichman, Inc.

Washington-Oregon: Gregory D. Eisenbrand, 8, Lake Oswego, Ore., sponsored by Oswego Motor Company; Lewis Dexter, 9, Bend, Ore., sponsored by Robberson Ford Inc.; Richard F. Scrivner, 10, Baker, Ore., sponsored by Phillips-Long Ford Sales, Inc.; Odley Vallely, 11, Lebanon, Ore., sponsored by Lambert Motor Co., Inc.; Bob Sotta, 12, Prosser, Wash., sponsored by Root Ford Sales Inc.; Dallas Dockter, 13, Milwaukee, Ore., sponsored by Francis Ford, Inc.

Utah-Idaho-Montana: Mike Johnson, 8, Hamilton, Mont., sponsored by Bell-McCall Co.; Steven Wassom, 9, Tooele Utah sponsored by Bonneville Motors; Steven F. Spendlove, 10, Bountiful, Utah, sponsored by Marion Willey & Sons; Dean Marquardt, 11, Charlo, Mont., sponsored by Hanson Motors; John Fennell, 12, Rupert Ida., sponsored by Goode Motor Co.; Orville Lind, 13, Hamilton, Mont., sponsored by Bell-McCall Co.

Medford High School Band, Medford, Oregon

Known as the "Tornado" Band, the Medford High School Band is 110 members strong.

The City of Medford, with a population of 27,000, has one High School, two Junior High Schools and 14 Elementary Schools. A new High School is soon to be opened, operating on the 6-2-2-2 Plan.

The Medford High School Band is directed by Mr. Irving Mirick, Supervisor of Instrumental Music of the Medford Public Schools. Mr. Vondis Miller is Assistant Director.

Medford schools boast a complete Band, Orchestra and Vocal Program, starting in the 5th Grade.

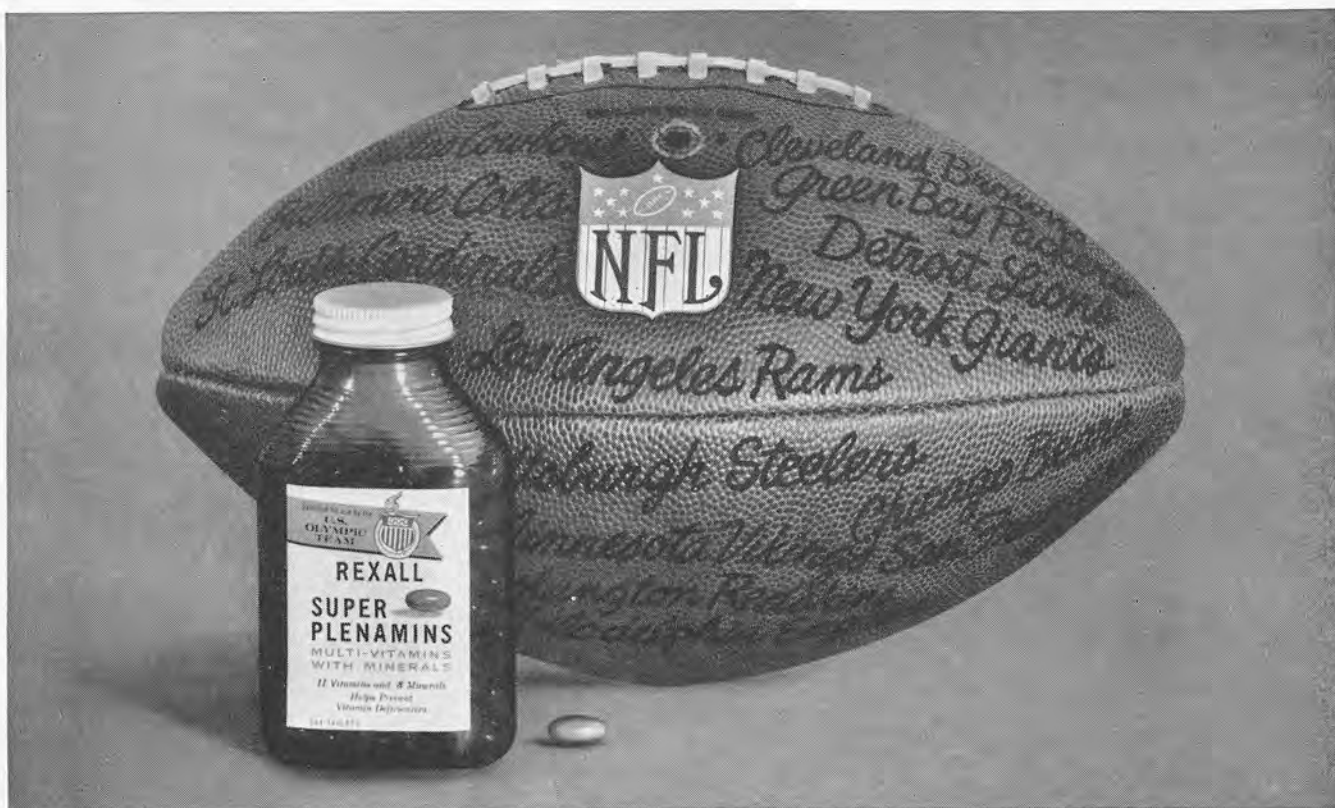

The Medford High School Band has had the honor of being invited to, and participating in the East West Shrine Game for the past twelve years. On each visit to San Francisco they have played a concert at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. The Medford High School Band is recognized as one of the finest High School Bands on the West Coast.

Prior to attending today's game the Medford High School Band devoted its morning to presenting a concert for the children at the Shrine Hospital.

How do the pros handle athlete's foot?

They follow their trainers' advice and use Desenex® for prevention and treatment.

It's excellent protection against itching, cracking and irritation of Athlete's Foot. Helps prevent spreading, too. No wonder Desenex is used by all NFL trainers.

We know you don't have a trainer to keep you on your toes. But that's no reason to suffer from Athlete's Foot. Start using Desenex yourself. Get Desenex Powder or new, cooling Desenex Aerosol for daytime use—and Desenex Ointment at night. Desenex is guaranteed to work or your money back.

Linc Kimura, well-known Forty Niners trainer, recommends Desenex to all his players for prevention and treatment of Athlete's Foot. He finds it really works!
